2020 ALAN Virtual Workshop Program Now Available

Dear ALAN Members,

We are thrilled to share the 2020 ALAN Workshop program. We've appreciated your patience these past few months as we embarked into new waters, offering a virtual workshop. Our goal has always been to provide ALAN members with the four components they value most: (1) improved equity and inclusion, (2) access to the best authors, (3) books for their classrooms and libraries, and (4) the very lowest price we can provide without operating in the red. These are trying times, but also times of opportunity, and we are seeking to try new things with this year's workshop. We are offering the ALAN Workshop for up to 1,000 attendees at $125 along with a complimentary ticket to the ALAN Breakfast program. Students will be able to register for $50. In addition, for an additional $25, a box of books can be shipped directly to the doors of the first 500 registrants.

We look forward to seeing you in-person at the 2021 NCTE Conference. In the meantime, we're excited about this year's workshop and the opportunity to share ALAN events with even more attendees both nationally and internationally!

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact any member of the ALAN Executive Board or to reach out to us via social media or the newsletter email.

"See" you at the Workshop!
